Nigerians Press 'Final Assault'

LAGOS (AP)—With Nigerian forces pressing their month-old "final assault" in the country's 15-month civil war, Biafran rebels have a counter-attacked strongly on at least three fronts and captured one town, reliable sources report.

Nigerian officers said Biafran firepower has become heavier and federal forces had responded by rushing men and ammunition into the hard-to-supply southeastern Nigerian area.

The strongest Biafran thrust appeared to be the taking of the former Biafran town of Ikot Ekpene—between Uyo, a major Nigerian refugee centre, and Umuahia, headquarters of Biafran leader Lt.-Col. Odumegwu Ojukwu.

The Biafrans were reported

Conscience Plays Big Role In Using 'Pill' Say Bishops

WINNIPEG (CP)—The Roman Catholic bishops of Canada say Pope Paul's encyclical opposition to artificial birth control methods can, in some instances, be tempered by the considerations of conscience.

Bishop Alexander Carter of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., told a news conference Friday that the authority of the encyclical never has been questioned by the Canadian Catholic hierarchy.

The news conference was called to release a statement on the encyclical by the Canadian Conference of Bishops.

president, said the bishops' document goes a step further than Pope Paul's statements on birth control by delving into questions of conscience.

"The unity of the church does not consist of a bland conformity to all ideas," the conference statement said.

The bishops worked almost round-the-clock over the wording of their document, a 2,500-word statement made public almost immediately after receiving general assent.

The revised estimates tabled Wednesday estimated total budgetary spending of $10,671,000,000, including $35,000,000 for the first year of medical care insurance.

Mr. Stanfield said federal assurances on spending curbs were made to the Securities and Exchange Commission by the U.S. and were repeated during the June 25 federal election.

"This may be a smart trick and a smart way to sell bonds. But it is a reflection on the honor of this country."

Mr. Stanfield said he could not accept government explanations that the increase was due to cost programs with the provinces.

Sukarno Faces Tough Move For Being Politically Active

JAKARTA (AP)—Former Indonesian president Sukarno is being held and interrogated here in the toughest move yet made against him since he was officially ousted last March.

President Suharto, the army general who forced him out following the abortive 1965 coup attempt, on Friday reported today that the aging ex-president had been brought in by security men.

He declined to say why Sukarno was being held, although he indicated that it is because he had been politically active in defiance of a ban imposed by the people's congress, Indonesia's legislature.

Sources said one reason for his detention was that he controlled a network of supporters with Communist elements in key government posts from his mansion in Bogor, a hill city 40 miles south of here.

There was speculation here that Sukarno had finally moved to arrest Sukarno, 68, on charges that he was involved in the unsuccessful Communist coup Sept. 30, 1965.

It was Sukarno's alliance with Indonesia's Communist party that led to his downfall. It was believed that he worked with the Communists in 1965 to stage a coup to silence army

Mourners File Past Johnson

QUEBEC (CP)—The rich, the poor, the young, the old, the French-speaking and the English-speaking Friday joined in a massive display of respect for the late Premier Daniel Johnson.

They steadily and silently filed past the open copper coffin in the legislative assembly chamber where Mr. Johnson's body will lie in state during this weekend of mourning in Quebec.

At the end of the first of five days of official mourning, an estimated 10,000 people had filed past the coffin of the premier, who died in northern Quebec at the scene of the Manicouagan power project.

An autopsy report on the premier's death was submitted to his government, but the Union Nationale man in charge since Mr. Johnson's death, Jean-Jacques Bertrand, would not disclose its conclusions.

"This is not the time to talk about things like that," he said. "Wait till after."

But Health Minister Jean-Paul Cloutier told a reporter he had been informed that the cause of death was a heart attack—Mr. Johnson's third.

KEPT ONE SECRET

He said he has been told by Dr. Reginald Johnson, the premier's cardiologist brother, that Daniel Johnson suffered a heart attack in 1964, but kept it secret. The premier was stricken by a mild heart attack here July 3.

A state funeral, with Premier Maurice Couve de Murville of France among the mourners, will be held at 10 a.m. Monday.

Canadian dignitaries will include Prime Minister Trudeau, one of many politicians Daniel Johnson didn't get along with.

Tories Hit Liberals

OTTAWA (CP)—The Conservative Opposition in Commons slashed hard at the liberal government for increases in spending estimates in the Friday opener of a two-day supply debate.

Opposition Leader Stanfield accused the government of selling recent bond issues under false pretences. All recent security sales were backed by federal assets of a $10,000,000,000 ceiling in the current fiscal year, he said.

But the recently-introduced revisions added $400,000,000 to the total, a move that would convince buyers that the government was either dishonest or stupid, Mr. Stanfield said.

The government withdrew spending estimates for the 1968-69 fiscal year in the spring to trim them in line with its economy drive.

The revised estimates tabled Wednesday estimated total budgetary spending of $10,671,000,000, including $35,000,000 for the first year of medical care insurance.

Mr. Stanfield said federal assurances on spending curbs were made to the Securities and Exchange Commission by the U.S. and were repeated during the June 25 federal election.

"This may be a smart trick and a smart way to sell bonds. But it is a reflection on the honor of this country."

De Gaulle Snub Handed To Bonn Over ECM Issue

BONN (CP)—French President de Gaulle today told West Germany in unmistakable terms to refrain from its efforts to bring Britain into the European Common Market.

French sources said the president stressed in a final session of his talks with Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger here that France and West Germany must work closer together in view of the seriousness of the situation in Europe following the Czechoslovak crisis and the ailing Franco-German co-operation of recent years.

"It is obvious that this is not the moment to bring up between us subjects of discord, such as the question of enlargement (of the European Common Market)," the sources quoted him as saying.

It was a firm restatement of the general opposition to British entry less than 24 hours after West Germany introduced a proposal for a Common Market trade arrangement with Britain at a ministerial meeting in Brussels.

With the Bonn submission strongly snubbed, Kiesinger was reported to have acceded to the French stand.

De Gaulle warned that the Common Market would disintegrate if some of its members attempted to gain British admittance without France.

REASSURES DE GAULLE

Kiesinger, however, reassured de Gaulle that West Germany would not yield to pressure at home and abroad to circumvent France for the purpose of expanding the Common Market.

While not yielding to West German wishes for a renewed look at West European defenses, de Gaulle promised that France would stand firmly by the West Germans in the event of the "strategic hypothesis" of Soviet military intervention in their country.

"No one else in the world can better deal with this great cause."

U.S. Shield Goes East

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first site in the U.S. Sentinel anti-ballistic missile system, described as a shield against attack by China, is being built on the East Coast, not the West Coast.

The defence department, announcing the award of $475,000,000 in contracts for anti-missile work Friday, said Boston will be the first location for an intercepter missile battery.

It said 12 other U.S. cities are being studied as possible locations for the missile batteries to counter any low-scale ICBM attack against the U.S.

Defence officials say the $5,000,000 Sentinel system is to serve as a shield against the few missiles China will have in the next few years. Critics charge the Sentinel is a first building step toward a much more costly anti-missile defence against possible Soviet attack.

of peace in Europe or work for it with more prospect of success than our two peoples," he said. But at the same time, he seemed to offer support to West Germany's blocked drive to improve relations with Eastern Europe.

"De Gaulle is our policy and these events will not stop us from continuing it as long as we can," he declared. "Peace has certain preconditions in our Europe... The first precondition and condition for peace is equilibrium in Europe."

Second Victim Dies After 2-Car Crash

RCMP have released the names of a 20-year-old Kelowna girl and a Smithers man who died Friday after a two-car collision on the Old Vernon Road.

Audrey Gibbons, daughter of Harry Gibbons, Old Vernon Road, died in hospital Friday afternoon from injuries suffered in the crash. She had been the driver of one of the cars.

Frank Bazil, 54, a fruit picker from Smithers, was a passenger in the second car. He was killed instantly in the collision, which occurred three miles north of Reid's Corner at 8 a.m.

A Penticton man appeared in Kelowna magistrate's court today, and was formally charged with criminal negligence causing the death of a person.

Miss Gibbons was Miss Lions in the 1966 Lady of the Lake Regatta contest but was not placed.

HMCS Okanagan Welcomed As She Sails Into Halifax

HALIFAX (CP)—The ceremony was informal and brief as the newest addition to Canada's submarine fleet—HMCS Okanagan—arrived in Halifax today from her builder's yards in England.

Joining with Defence Minister Leo Cadiieux in greeting the submarine, third and last of the O class vessels built for the Canadian Navy, were civic officials and representatives of Indian bands from British Columbia's Okanagan Valley.

The group was taken on a tour of the submarine.

In neighboring Dartmouth, Friday Mayors Allan O'Brien of Halifax and Roland Thornhill of Dartmouth extended official welcomes to the visiting B.C. delegation and swapped souvenirs.

Among those taking part in the reception and dinner and today's submarine welcoming were Chief Ernest Brewer of the Okanagan Indian band, Chief Jack Alex of the Penticton Indian band, Akomamu E. R. Winter, acting mayor of Kelowna, Mayor F. D. Stuart of Penticton, Mayor William Halme of Vernon, and Chief Oll Derikson, representing the Westbank Indian tribe.

French Interests Reported After Big Canadian Company

TORONTO (CP)—The Toronto Star and Quebec Le Soleil report that French interests have been attempting to purchase Canadian Marconi Ltd., a Canadian electronics giant, for $100,000,000.

The newspapers, in copyright stories, say the project has been approved by the Canadian government.

The present Area Development Incentives Act will terminate March 31, 1971. Since major projects may take two years or so to come into operation, Mr. Marchand said that it is the Government's intention to introduce new legislation early next year.

The Minister added: "This legislation will be based on a careful review of the whole incentive system. The review has already gone far enough for me to say that there will be some important changes. I hope we can avoid some features of the present system that have proved to be somewhat wasteful, and at the same time make the incentives more effective where they will do most good."

In the meantime, the incentives available under the present legislation will be paid if any new developments even if for necessary reasons, the projects do not come into operation until after the terminal date provided for in the present legislation.

Canadian Marconi, a manufacturer of electronics equipment with the Canadian government as its chief customer, also owns a television station and both AM (amplitude modulation) and FM (frequency modulation) radio stations. Its head office is in Montreal, where it produces highly specialized broadcasting equipment purchased by the Canadian government for defence use.

The newspapers say there is no way of immediately assessing what effect the death of Premier Johnson Wednesday will have on the negotiations as he was expected to have discussed the matter during his proposed trip to Europe, first with President de Gaulle in Paris and then in London with English Electric, which owns 50.6 per cent of Canadian Marconi stock.

B.C. To Give Heroes Cash

VICTORIA (CP)—A program of cash awards ranging from $500 to $2,000 for heroic or rescue attempts in industrial accidents was announced Friday by the Workmen's Compensation Board of British Columbia.

Four categories of awards—gold, silver, bronze and parchment—will carry corresponding cash awards of $2,000, $1,000, $750 and $500.

Initial judging of awards will be by a three-member committee representing workers and employers under WCB commissioner R. B. Carpenter.

The board has already learned of one incident which may merit an award and it is being investigated.

Applications on behalf of individuals or groups for rescue incidents on or after April 6 of this year may be made immediately to the board.

Marcello Caetano began his first full day's work as Portugal's new prime minister today with princely problems and what for him is a pauper's salary. In formal ceremonies Friday, the 62-year-old successful corporation lawyer took over the job of Antonio Salazar, who had set the job's salary at $432 a month. Salazar, whose 40-year authoritarian rule of Portugal was ended by a stroke that brought his near death, lived like a hermit and his austere furniture dated to 1928. Salazar still remains in a coma.

Black Panther Sent To Jail In Death Of White Policeman

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — The organizer of the Black Panthers was sent to prison Friday and the militant Negro group's information minister was ordered back to jail as a parole violator.

Huey Newton, 26, the group's founder, was sentenced to two to 15 years on a conviction of voluntary manslaughter in the gunfight death a year ago of Oakland policeman John Frey. Newton's lawyer said an appeal would be filed.

Later, in San Francisco, the state appeal court revoked the parole of Eldridge Cleaver, 33, the group's minister of information.

It was not clear when Cleaver's return-to-prison order would be effective. The clerk of the appellate court said Cleaver probably would remain free pending action by the State Supreme Court on any appeal.

A lawyer for Cleaver, Charles Garry, said the parole revocation order would not become effective for 60 days and that an appeal would be filed. The state's attorney said that it had lifted Cleaver's parole in April after he was indicted on a charge of attempted murder after a gunfight between Black Panthers and Oakland police. He faces trial on that charge Dec. 2. One Panther was killed and two white policemen wounded in a two-hour exchange of gunfire.

Cleaver was paroled in 1966 after serving nine years in state prison on conviction for assault to commit rape, assault to commit murder and assault with a deadly weapon. While in prison, he completed his high school education and wrote an autobiography, Soul on Ice, which was published this year and received generally favorable reviews.

The Panthers, based in Oakland, model themselves after Malcolm X, the late black nationalist, and style themselves as being between a political movement and an Afro-American government in exile. They wear uniforms of leather jackets and black berets.

Cleaver is the presidential candidate of the Peace and Freedom party, a group containing both black and white radicals, in the Nov. 5 U.S. elections.

Japanese Capital Set To Pour Into B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Japanese investment in Canada can be expected to increase, the British Columbia Natural Resources conference was told Thursday.

Shaw Ishimoto, vice-president of Nishio (Canada) Ltd., told delegates Canada is the only advanced nation in the world in which Japan is investing in the development of minerals.

"So far as I am concerned Japanese investments here have been over-heralded considering the net amount involved," Mr. Ishimoto said. "Real investments are still to come in the light of the emergence of larger but lower grade mines."

He said that although Japan requires growing amounts of B.C.'s minerals the province is receiving tough competition from Australia and will receive some from South America and Africa as reductions in ocean freight rates by specialized super bulk tankers are realized.

A. P. McBean, chief forester for the Ontario government of MacMillan Bloedel Ltd., said depends on how far Ottawa is willing to go in the coming discussions.

Kindergarten Meeting Held

RUTLAND — The Rutland Kindergarten Association elected officers for the coming season at a meeting held in the Dillman Room, Community Centre. Some 50 parents were in attendance, and the new teacher, Mrs. J. M. Stockley, and her assistants, Mrs. B. Wostradowski and Mrs. R. Martin were introduced.

Members of the executive for this year are: President, Mrs. Doug Mervyn; vice-president, Mrs. Norman Felty; secretary, Mrs. Adolph Schieve; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Roth; parks board representative, Mrs. Norman Felty.

The meeting was advised that before the building would be approved by the health department both washrooms would have to be renovated. A work committee was set up consisting of volunteers amongst the fathers of this season's pupils, to attend to this immediately, so that classes can open in October.

Oct. 1 has been set as the opening date, and the Christmas holidays will be from Dec. 15 to Jan. 6. The fees charged this year have had to be increased from last year's rate of $11 per month. The building used for the kindergarten classes is the small park hall, near the Centennial Hall. The building was at one time a dining-room at the KCE Rutland branch, and was purchased by the Rutland Women's Institute some years ago, and moved to the park as a community meeting place.

VERNON COUNCIL

By MABEL JOHNSON
VERNON (Special) — Ald. Randolph Valair reported to city council committee meeting Sept. 24, that there had been complaints of smoke from the city dump, west of Vernon. He explained that the smoke had been largely caused by burning shavings. Commented Alderman Valair: "Everyone wants industry, but no one wants the results."

During subsequent discussion it was revealed that the whole problem of garbage disposal will be up for review before too long. A five-year period, currently under way, was mentioned. One alderman cryptically remarked: "there would be no more garbage burning, but cost will be more."

Ald. Carl Romer intimated he was disappointed that there seemed to be little so far done regarding the second phase of upgrading Highway 97. A letter to the Department of Highways will be dispatched.

Low Corn Prices Spark Protest From Growers

WOODSTOCK, Ont. (CP) — starting point at Lambeth, south of London. But starting Monday, prices parked their tractors here Friday for the weekend and went home, planning to return Monday and resume their drive to Ottawa.

The growers, more than 200 of them, plan to arrive in Ottawa Thursday where they hope to meet Agriculture Minister H. A. Olson to press their request for a floor price of $1.50 a bushel.

The current corn price is slightly more than $1 a bushel. The tractor caravan made about 30 miles Friday from its protest, supporting herself by painting portraits of her friends and teachers. Among her better known works is a bronze bust of Queen Elizabeth II in Beacon Hill Park, Victoria. The artist has brought a selection of portraits in oil and pastel and a few pieces of sculpture to Kelowna for an art exhibit in the board room of the regional library continuing through Oct. 5. (Courier photo)

The authority would create orderly marketing for all grain corn in Canada and would control all domestic and imported corn marketed in the country.

Walter Miller, president of the farmers' union, opposes the suggestion, saying the federation has done nothing for the corn growers all year but "sit in offices in Toronto and make policies without reference to the grass roots."

Mr. Miller has asked for an immediate embargo on foreign corn.

The federation says more than 8,000,000 bushels of U.S. corn are in storage in Canada.

Meanwhile, Darrell J. Ubenille, president of the Canadian Seed Corn Growers Association, met with Mr. Olson in Ottawa and presented a brief asking government-guaranteed bank loans of up to 75 cents a bushel for corn stored awaiting sale.

The brief asks the government to pay the farmer a fee to store his own grain and possibly a monthly subsidy while it is in storage.

The stored grain would be similar to a corn bank and would help stabilize the supply and demand through the year.

Ontario Seeks Bigger Tax Slice

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario wants a bigger slice of the federal income tax dollar, and if it doesn't get it may resort to a personal income tax of its own, says Premier John Robarts.

Mr. Robarts made the remark in an interview Friday, but he didn't say how much the tax, if instituted, would be.

He expressed concern about the province's heavy spending responsibilities for which it has no "matching sources of revenue."

Under federal-provincial arrangements, the province receives 28 per cent of every personal income tax dollar collected by the federal government. This is to be re-negotiated sometime this fall. The possibility of a personal income tax levied by the Ontario government depends on how far Ottawa is willing to go in the coming discussions.

Reasons Chest Needs Your $$

The Central Okanagan Community Chest Campaign needs your dollars, your time and your enthusiasm, and Colin Evans, assistant commissioner of the Red Cross B.C.-Yukon division has more than a thousand reasons why.

Mr. Evans, in Kelowna this week to help the drive prepare for its Monday launching, which will have canvassers covering the commercial and industrial sections, commented on the necessity of the Red Cross and its service to the community as a whole.

"Figures issued in 1967 indicate 1,053 pints of blood were given by the Kelowna General Hospital besides 312 transfusions not including people who went to Vancouver for heart and lung operations."

"Each unit of blood costs the Red Cross $7.04 by the time it is collected and distributed."

The blood services the organization provides is but one of countless benefits it gives to the community.

During the summer a successful Red Cross water safety program was conducted in Kelowna. A year ago 17,002 pupils were registered at a cost of 84 cents per pupil or $14,029 to the Red Cross.

The group loans crutches, wheel chairs to the ill and disabled at no cost to the user for a maximum of three months.

Mr. Evans estimates one out of three persons will need blood at one time during his life.

When a person receives blood the provincial average suggests he will receive about three pints.

Last year the B.C.-Yukon division spent $657,000 from their reserves and a total of $1,113,000. The difference was made up of subsidies provided by the government which usually contributes toward the technical cost.

Besides this it pays 60 per cent of veterans services, contributes toward therapy units, provides arts and crafts, cigarettes and comforts to veterans.

"The Red Cross B.C.-Yukon division operates lodges in Burnaby, Vancouver, Victoria, for families of veterans, who may visit with a patient. Rooms and meals are available at a nominal charge."

The women's work committee of the local branch of the group provides 946 articles of clothing and 205 diapers for people who need help.

Mr. Evans urged local Red Cross branches to support the campaign by canvassing since 80 per cent of the financing for programs comes from the public purse depending on the response of the private citizen to the canvasser at his door.

The old saying goes it is better to give than to receive, but this year Kelowna citizens through contributions to the Community Chest will have an opportunity to do both.

Economic Outlook Healthy Says Investors President

The head of one of the largest financial institutions in Canada said in Kelowna Thursday his group is "reasonably optimistic" of this country's economic outlook for some time to come.

C. E. Atchison of Winnipeg, president of the Investors Group, was in Kelowna for a sales conference ending today.

He said the more optimistic outlook was a result of the election of a majority government, and that government's action in curtailing expenses: "From an economic standpoint, the curtailment has favorable implications particularly with reference to inflation," he said.

Mr. Atchison mentioned the lessening of the inflationary trend and the drop in interest rates as "healthy" signs.

Commenting on the stock market, Mr. Atchison said it has been strong and he expects it to continue to show progress because the business economic outlook in Canada is satisfactory.

The one element of concern, he said, was the increasing speculative element in the stock markets in Canada and the U.S.

"We are concerned prices will be pushed too high with the inevitable day of reckoning," he said.

This was Mr. Atchison's first visit to Kelowna and he said he was "very impressed" and hoped to see more of the area before leaving.

"In Central Canada, we always hear favorable comments on Kelowna and the Valley, and I am sure what I see will live up to expectations."

The Investors Group family manages more than $1.5 billion in clients' funds, making it one of the largest financial institutions in the country.

It has three wholly-owned subsidiaries, Investors Syndicate, Western Savings and Loan Association, and Investors Group Trust Company (the pension fund business).

Affiliated are five mutual funds — the largest of which are Investors Mutual, Investors Growth Fund and Investors International, all distributed by Investors Syndicate in Kelowna.

Processing Jobless Claims Outlined By UIC Officer

Invariably there will be people who think they can beat the system, but Betty Amos has no estimates of those who are successful.

Miss Amos, information services officer for the Unemployment Insurance Commission Pacific Region said you would probably have to look for a record of cases brought to trial for an indication of people who abuse the services offered by the commission.

Admittedly, though, it would take some doing, for the department is well equipped with administrative offices and counter-buffers.

USE MAIL

Miss Amos, on a publicity tour of the region Wednesday explained the process by which a claim is handled.

"Claims are dealt with exclusively through the mail, now," she said. "When an application arrives at one of the local offices it is first examined by the claims department and pay determiner. The form is checked and counter-checked and if it is incomplete, a phone call may be made for the missing information."

The commission then determines the date when the payments will start. The final step is a continuing process. Weekly follow-ups are made. The claimant must furnish evidence regarding his attempts at obtaining employment.

Miss Amos says some people are unaware of a change made 2 1/2 years ago when National Unemployment Services, which handled both claims for insurance and bids for employment was broken up into two divisions.

"There is a tendency to believe we fulfill a dual purpose," she said.

The unemployment insurance fund is financed from payments of employee and employer besides a contribution made by a federal treasury.

The federal government pays administrative costs, buildings equipment, and salaries to staff but the major contributions are the employer and employee.

"The purpose of the plan," she concluded, "is to provide benefit to people who are unemployed for reasons beyond their control."

THE VALLEY SCENE

Art Day announced that the 1968 Lions Light Bulb drive in Kelowna was a complete success. The club's supply of light bulbs was exhausted before all areas of the city could be covered. In his report, Mr. Day expressed his club's gratitude to the householders of Kelowna for their generous participation in the campaign. Proceeds from the light bulb sale are devoted to Lions' club charities in this area.

Seventy cases of dynamite (100 pounds each) will be donated in Kelowna Thursday, but the city will hardly be raze of the blast. Okanagan Engineering and Consulting Company, Kelowna, will be doing subterranean blasting for a road in the Mountain Meadows real estate development on Highway 97 north. The earth is not expected to rise more than a few inches, and a little sound will be heard.

Friday mornings' wind storm caused even the trees to go for cover. Observed early Friday on Bernard Avenue—a truckload of trees which doubtless could have been levelled by the storm had they not been taken in their pots out of the unrelenting blasts.

Final minor hockey registration will be held Monday at the Memorial Arena public skating entrance. Pups, pee wees, bantams, and midgets will sign up from 1 p.m. to 4 p.m. and Juvenile and Junior B's 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. All boys must bring their medical insurance numbers, and new boys their birth certificates.

A fisherman who says he lost three four-year Kokanee in succession, turn manages a smile. Kokanee turn a reddish hue at spawning time, which is right now, and the fisherman said "They were all red when I saw them as they made it to the side of the boat before saying goodbye. So, just think how many unborn babies I saved that day." He finds it a little difficult, however, to convince his friends of his altruism.

KELOWNA SOLDIER IN CYPRUS

Serving with the Canadian Contingent of the United Nations Force in Cyprus is Craftsman Ray Erler, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Erler, live at 1890 Ethel St., Kelowna. A technician with the Royal Canadian Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, he is seen testing the electrical circuit in a radio part.

Australia Drops Subsidy On Peaches

Australian government subsidies on canned peaches to Canada will be dropped as of Dec. 31, thus reducing the competition for domestic varieties here.

K. F. Harding, past president of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce, gave a report on the subject at the quarterly meeting of the Okanagan-Similkameen Associated Chambers of Commerce, held in Rutland last week.

B.C. Tree Fruits was informed of the new policy in a letter from S. B. Williams, the deputy minister of agriculture in Ottawa.

The decision by the Australian government came about as a result of objections from the Okanagan fruit industry and others, to the unfair competition from Australian-subsidized fruit exported to Canada.

In his letter Mr. Williams said the suspension of the export payments should have a significant effect on the pricing structure of Australian peaches in Canada and aid in placing "our products" on a more competitive basis.

"In spite of the announced suspension of payments made under the Market Development Allowance system, the Canadian government is still conferring other aspects of their export policies on canned fruits as they apply to Canada," Mr. Williams said in his letter, addressed to the Canadian Food Processors Association in Ottawa.

Mayor Remarks On P.O. Closing

Post office officials here were caught by surprise by the announcement from Ottawa Friday that post offices would close Saturdays as of Feb. 1.

Postmaster General Eric Kierans said Saturday mail deliveries would be discontinued on the same date.

"This is the first we have heard of," assistant postmaster J. H. Needham said. Asked if the same number of employees would be needed for a five-day week he said "on the face of it—no."

Mr. Needham could not see receiving and dispatching services being closed on Saturdays, but he did agree there are few businesses operating in Kelowna that day.

"People will adjust quickly," he said.

Mayor R. F. Parkinson when asked to comment on the Ottawa news said "I frankly believe that's sensible."

He said city hall is closed Saturday and the new ruling will not affect it in any way. In his own business as manager of the Laurel Co-operative Union packing plant, he has often gone to work Saturday to deal with mail. On Mondays, when the staff was back at work, little mail arrived.

"I feel the wicket service should be maintained on Saturdays with a small staff," he said, "but the over-all move seems a good one."

The mayor said people have criticized the federal government for not balancing its budget and he approved of recent cutbacks as long as government staffs weren't increased.

K. F. Harding, past president of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce said he thinks it's a matter of the public becoming educated to the five-day week.

He said the move will provide a hardship for some offices which are normally open Saturdays, such as his insurance firm.

"Head office mail from Vancouver arrived Saturday and was handled that day. This will not longer be possible," he said.

Mr. Harding felt people will prefer to accept the five-day week, rather than pay higher costs.

Traffic Accidents In The Area Account For $4,300 In Damages

Traffic accidents during the past 24 hours in the Kelowna district have accounted for $4,300 damage to vehicles and minor injuries to a Burnaby man.

Harold Simkins, Kelowna, were the drivers involved in a two-car, rear-end collision on Highway 97 at Westbank at 11 p.m. Friday. The damage was estimated at $300.

A two-car collision at the Queensway and Water Street Friday, at 3:35 p.m., resulted in $700 damage to cars driven by Regina Hobbs, Okanagan Centre Road, and Russell Holden, Belgo Road.

Several incidents of theft were reported to RCMP overnight. Rod Morin, Vancouver, had cash and receipts valued between $50 and $200 stolen from his motel room sometime late Friday. Capri Electric Ltd. reported several two-way radios were stolen from a company truck parked on St. Paul Street.

END UP IN OKANAGAN

West Is Inviting To Teachers

Go West, young man, go West, in a piece of advice which hardly need be given to Canadian teachers, many of whom are ending up in the sunny Okanagan.

Two former Alberta teachers new in Kelowna this year claim many young teachers are moving to Alberta from Saskatchewan, and in turn, many are leaving Alberta for B.C.

Ron Dale, an athletic young man who helps coach the Kelowna Cubs football team, says he has been thinking of coming to the Valley for some time. He finally came this year and is teaching art to Grades 8, 9 and 10 at Kelowna Secondary School.

"I first visited Kelowna in 1961," he remembers. "I was with some friends and I recall us talking about how nice it would be to live here. Some of

CAMPBELL POINTS OUT

Amalgamation Has Benefits

The benefits of amalgamating for provision of services were pointed out in Kelowna Friday by two Coast speakers.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dan Campbell and Mayor Alan Emmott of Burnaby spoke at a dinner meeting of the Kelowna Chamber of Commerce attended by only 47 people.

Speaking first, Mr. Campbell emphasized three points. He said the financial management of municipal governments is good. Evidence of this is found in its reserves, tax collections, lack of delinquent taxes and in the utilities' financing—pay as you go and self liquidating.

He said one of the advantages of amalgamation is, if federal or provincial governments are transferring money to local levels "in bits and pieces", it is better to have it handled by one unit.

Politically and geographically municipalities are not set up to be effective in today's world and can't solve the problems of rapid growth.

"What is needed today is the understanding of the principles of co-operation," he said.

This third point was when municipal affairs aren't going right, it is not always the fault of the elected officials.

"Look behind at the people who are the civil servants of the community," Mr. Campbell said.

Man Charged After Death Of Area Girl

A 47-year-old Penticton man has been charged with causing the death of Audrey Gibbons by criminal negligence.

Michael Remezoff appeared in magistrate's court today but asked for a remand while he consults counsel. He will appear again Monday.

RCMP charged Remezoff in connection with the fatal two-car collision early Friday on the Old Vernon Road in which Audrey Gibbons, 20, Kelowna, and Frank Bazil, a 54-year-old fruit picker from Smithers, B.C., were killed.

Robin Ricketts, Rutland, was fined a total of $110 or 17 days in jail for three separate convictions. He pleaded guilty to causing excessive noise with a motor vehicle, failing to produce registration of ownership of a vehicle and entering a liquor store while being a minor.

G. J. Raycott, of Kelowna, pleaded guilty to having care and control of a motor vehicle while being impaired. He was fined $250 or 30 days in jail.

MAYOR EMMOTT

Mayor Emmott said there is increasing recognition of the important role of local government, evident in the increasing amounts being transferred for spending by municipal governments.

"It behooves us to examine the boundaries created in our area six years ago," he said, "We are now interested in providing services for a large local area, rather than smaller areas each with its own services."

He said the deficiencies of one community, are of concern to another community.

"Planning has got to be on a metropolitan or community basis," Mayor Emmott said.

"It is an immense task. No longer can we have part-time municipally elected people."

"If we are going to amalgamate, create regional districts, dispose of tens of millions of dollars, this has to be done by people working on a full-time basis."

He also advocated taxing communities at a "realistically high level," sufficiently to provide a good service. A good job of selling the services to the people is also necessary, he said.

"Municipalities don't have to apologize for taxation... providing the money is properly spent."

He said municipal leaders should create in their people a "sense of priority" so they can recognize the importance of an efficient sewerage system, effluent disposal or street lighting, as opposed to the importance of the taxpayers spending their money on the latest model car, a colored TV or liquor.

"It is a sad thing if individuals in an affluent society have no pride in their community," he said.

Aid John Howard Society Without Being An Expert

You can help the John Howard Society by involvement in the lives of the lonely, disoriented or problem people in the community and can do it without being an expert.

Mervyn Davis, executive director of the B.C. John Howard Society believes in minimal organizational structure and in eliminating bureaucracy with interested citizens helping others either within the society or without.

Volunteer members of John Howard, an organization founded in B.C. in 1931, work with paid employees in the seven or eight branches in Vancouver and smaller cities. They work without financial reimbursement but benefit intrinsically.

Mr. Davis feels the volunteer worker has a major role to play in the society and can assist without having special training in social work or psychiatry.

COMPANIONSHIP

Citizens are getting to feel they can't do anything to help, but often people need companionship or, for example, a friendly hand with the dishes in a home tormented with internal discord.

"The psychiatrist is an inadequate substitute for the family that needs friends," he commented.

"Often however, the citizen who has the opportunity to act as a compassionate, human being puts himself off."

"The expert is useful as a hiring of the citizen," he commented.

The psychiatrist may suggest approaches that have been missed by the volunteer.

Money is a limiting factor in the society's operation but not necessarily a deciding one. The Kelowna Branch, comprised of about 12 active members finances its projects by contributions of members.

Mr. Davis said a salary from donations to the Community Chest fund, together with the government, but most of its operation is dependent on the generosity of its members.

UP TO LOCALS

The central office in Vancouver tries not to control the course of member groups, but rather lets local branches decide on the projects they would like to undertake.

Like most organizations and individuals the John Howard Society has its ups and downs, and some agencies have slack periods when one project is completed and another has not yet been decided on.

Mr. Davis was in Kelowna Friday with President Gerald Coultas, a Vancouver barrister, and past president and member of the Kelowna branch, Frank Lewis, to attend a dinner meeting with the Kelowna branch.

They are in Vernon today for a general meeting of the B.C. John Howard Society, which should draw representation from most branches.

Song About Valley Taped By Former City Resident

Memories of former Kelowna resident Phyllis Hill, floated into the city this week, as her well-known voice was heard over the air waves.

Mrs. Hill formed, directed, sang with, and accompanied the Kinetite choir here from 1951 to her farewell performance Nov. 26, 1962.

Her husband, T. E. Hill, was a Kinsmen member and Mrs. Hill formed the choir on the spur-of-the-moment for a Kinsmen convention in 1951. The choir's popularity grew and performances were given on numerous occasions throughout the 11 years of its existence.

A neighbor in Kelowna, Roy Kerr, composed and set to music a song about the Okanagan and sent it to Mrs. Hill in her home in Tenerife in the Canary Islands.

Mrs. Hill sang the song on tape and recently it arrived back in Kelowna to Mr. Kerr.

"I played the tape for a group of Kinetites and they asked that it be put over the air so everyone could hear it," Mr. Kerr said, and this past week many have heard and enjoyed the voice of Mrs. Hill.

Mr. Kerr modestly says the song, without the voice of his former friend and neighbor, is "nothing." He has no plans for the tape other than letting friends enjoy it.

Mr. Kerr, a native of England, came to Kelowna in 1948 from West Africa. He says he is not a song writer, but composed the Okanagan Valley song "in tribute to her voice."

Porcupine Visits City Early Today

Paul Pugliese has done it again. The owner of Pug's Taxi, who reported spotting Ogoogo about a month ago, discovered another unusual visitor to Kelowna early today—a porcupine walking down Bernard Avenue.

Mr. Pugliese first saw the beast at 6:15 a.m. ("Just about the same time of day I saw Ogoogo," he recalled) walking along Bernard Avenue by the Dairy Queen stand.

It sauntered along—porcupines take their time—and crossed the street heading for City Park. A waitress almost stepped on it.

Mr. Pugliese reported the porcupine to RCMP who sent out a patrol. The prickly-skinned animal was finally rediscovered in the park and shot by the police.

Sunny weather is forecast for the Okanagan Sunday.

Little change in temperature is expected—with winds light.

Today should be sunny. The low tonight and high Sunday should be 38 and 72.

The low and high recorded in Kelowna Friday were 39 and 65 compared with 47 and 78 on the same date a year ago.

RON DALE ... finally came MARGARET JOHANSON ... pin in map

my friends came here last year and are teaching."

Why did he come? "Mainly because of the weather."

How is he enjoying Kelowna? "It's been very cool. I've met some really fine people at the school. I'm very satisfied with my students."

Born and raised in Calgary, Mr. Dale graduated from the University of Calgary in 1966 with a B.Ed. degree. He taught in junior high school there until this year. He is married and has an 18-month-old girl.

An urge to travel brought Miss Margaret Johanson to Kelowna this year. A teacher of social studies and English to Grade 11 students at Kelowna Secondary School, she "stuck a pin in a map" and by good luck picked this city.

"It's something different, like the climate," she said, "native of Red Deer, Alta. She first passed through Kelowna several years ago on a trip to Vancouver.

A riding enthusiast, Miss Johanson trains and shows horses, but has been so busy organizing her school work she has not had time to get involved with local riding clubs. "I hope sometime before spring to get active with this," she says.

Although she has taught in bigger cities than Kelowna, she finds the pace here more hectic than she is used to. "It's a bigger school, there are more students; it's a lot faster pace."

Miss Johanson finished her B.Ed. at the University of Alberta, in Edmonton, this summer. She has taught in Delburne and Rocky Mountain House, both in Alberta and worked in a bank for several years before deciding to become a teacher.

New Threat Faces Man With Landings On Moon

A British writer has stated "We are faced with a situation in which two mighty nations, the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. are determined upon the occupation of the moon. It will not be overstating the case if we say they are determined upon the occupation of the moon. If two such opposing ideologies find themselves in occupation of the moon, considering what possibilities towards world-domination such occupation would offer, it is reasonable to think that there would be world peace? What is far more likely is that by occupation we are fast heading to the state where conflict could break out over the whole matter of the moon."

Some years ago, General Putt, in evidence before the U.S. House Committee on Armed Services said that "the United States Air Force aims at establishing a missile base on the moon to the earth..." He declared that the moon "might provide a retaliation base of considerable advantage over earth-bound nations." He pointed out that an attack upon the moon by the U.S.S.R. would have to be launched a day or two before and at attack upon the terrestrial United States if the United States was to be unable to retaliate from the moon.

Such a preliminary attack upon the moon, he considered, would warn Americans of their danger. If, on the other hand, the Russians did not demolish the United States Lunar Installations, it would be possible from these installations, to destroy Russia although the terrestrial United States had been obliterated.

With this ominous prospect in view, in Nov., 1965, a committee of scientists, space experts, and educationists proposed to President Johnson that he seek "an international agreement on a code for human activity on the moon to prevent it from becoming a military base." Such an agreement has now been drawn up and signed by many nations of the world. Whether that agreement will be honored when one or the other of the great powers get there remains to be seen.

All this fills one with a sense of foreboding. What will happen in space and on earth if the nations take their awesome weapons to the moon for the purpose of war and conquest? Their treaties and pacts have not prevented them from warring over territories here on earth, can we expect it to be different in space?

What does the future hold? Well, whether men and women are prepared to accept it or not, the Bible alone can shed light here. Not that it teaches of men going to the moon with their space-ships and weapons of destruction. But it does teach that the climax of history will be characterized by great cosmic disturbances and universal fear and distress upon the earth. Jesus said that prior to his return in judgement there would be "signs" in the heavens, and "upon the earth distress of nations... men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming upon the earth: for the powers of heaven shall be shaken."

Another translation renders this last clause "the forces which control the heavens will be disordered and disturbed." What is more, Jesus intimated that prior to this great crisis that would bring down the nations, the city of Jerusalem would once more be prominent upon the world scene. "... Jerusalem shall be trodden down of the nations, UNTIL the times of the nations have run their course." Are we on the threshold of these events?

However, whether we are or not, the church has still the responsibility to preach the gospel to all the nations. To tell them that God will through Jesus Christ give forgiveness of sins and eternal life to all who believe. That "God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believes in him, should not perish but have everlasting life." To believe this great message of God's redeeming love is to receive life and hope, and thus to live with meaning and purpose in this crisis time.

Great Relative Growth

(Victoria Colonist)

The new report of the Economic Council of Canada takes note, in connection with the changing structure of the Canadian economy, that facts do not support some views of the process. It cites two such views. One is "that the potential for Canada's growth is mainly to be found in its rich natural resources and that this would result in great relative growth of the primary resource industries in terms of production and in use of labor and capital." The other is "that industrialization brings an enormous relative growth in manufacturing, including processing of raw materials, again with great relative growth in employment, capital use and production."

To the contrary, the report says, economic growth in the more industrially advanced countries including Canada is not proceeding along these lines. In most of them the service industries appear to be growing most rapidly.

In Canada, this surprising growth is clearly indicated: 60 per cent of the labor force in 1946 was employed in goods-producing industries and 40 per cent in the service sector; 20 years later the percentages had been nearly completely reversed.

The situation is similar in the United States. And there — and by inference in Canada — some cheer can be found in it for those whose education is limited and to whom automation in the goods-producing industries is a threat.

A publication of the Chase Manhattan Bank forecasts that employment in the years ahead will grow most rapidly in the professions. But often forgotten, it says, is the other end of the job spectrum — after the professions, service occupations, generally requiring less training and education, will show the highest growth rate between now and 1975, expanding 66 per cent faster than overall employment.

Such trends, it adds "will surely continue. The nation is becoming wealthier, more educated and increasingly urban. Americans are eating out more, going to the beauty parlor more frequently, spending more on health care."

The same is true in Canada. Not all is doom and despair for those who cannot make it through higher levels of education.

New Ministry Of Interference

By BRIAN MEREDITH
London (England) Observer
(for The Daily Courier)

How much should the state run the economy? What is a fair balance between the public and private sectors? If the state takes control of an industry, does it do so to make a profit, to increase efficiency, or to meet a social need? And who manages the managers?

These may not be burning issues in Canada, but here in Britain they may become so. A select or parliamentary committee has been laboring long, and it has just given birth to a monstrous three- and a half pound baby in form of a report on the nationalized industries.

The report, and the questions it answers or leaves unanswered, are not of remote, academic interest to Canadians. We, after all, federally, provincially and municipally, are publicly in business also; and what is said and done in Britain about the public ownership of various services and industries and about government participation as a partner in big business is more than relevant.

AN UMBRELLA FOR NATIONALIZATION

We may have all sorts of emotional and political attachment with free, private enterprise; but the way the European and British balls are bouncing over here, there is a certain inevitability about the increasing share of control being conceded to the state. And in Britain this has reached such a pitch that the report I mention urges the creation of a Ministry of Nationalized Industries to deal with their operations, to make the operators co-operate.

It's been given a mixed reception. Lord Robbins, the head of the Coal Board, — which is of course one of them — snorted out home reference to the new "Ministry of Interference." But he didn't damn it entirely.

Here's a quick glance at Britain's bigger pies in which there are governmental fingers: Under the Ministry of Power there's gas and electricity and steel. Under Transport there are British Railways, London Transport, the docks and the waterways. Under the Board of Trade there's BOAC and BEA and an airports authority. Under Technology there's Atomic Energy. And under the G.P.O., the General Post Office, itself now a great public corporation and with P.T. responsibilities, that's Posts, Telegraph and Telephones there is, but very nominally and invisibly, the B.C.

It's hard for the layman in this economic and bureaucratic maze to chart a course. The British government has for years, and not simply under Labor, been buying its way into various businesses, giving subsidies to exporters, and securing representation on the directorates of the greater monopolies. There has just been a great merger of electrical industries, for instance, and the government will be represented on the directorate. And all this in addition to the wholesale nationalization of things like the railways or the coal mines.

MEDDLE LEADS TO MEDDLE

Not surprisingly the report has found confrontations and frictions between businessmen and bureaucrats. Ministers are said to have proved short on policy but long on interference. Meddle and muddle are said to result; and now they want to have off the whole lot and put them, for operational purposes, under a separate ministry for the nationalized industries.

TO YOUR GOOD HEALTH

Rheumatic Fever Not Good News

By DR. JOSEPH G. MOLNER

Dear Dr. Molner:

Rheumatic fever is prevalent here, and it is always said to be misinterpreted your column concerning it in the past, for they say you wrote that, if the patient had it and recovered without heart damage, repeated infections wouldn't affect the heart.

I don't believe you ever wrote such. Please write in your column the specific care that should be given a victim of this dreadful disease. — G.S.D., a teacher in Appalachia.

Yes, I think they did misinterpret somewhat.

Rheumatic fever, which starts as a "strep throat", is still the subject of considerable study. Rheumatic fever, it seems, does not always cause heart damage, but it does so in a sufficient number of cases that preventing heart damage has to be the primary consideration in treatment.

It also appears to be true — but this cannot be said with entire certainty — that if a person's heart is to be damaged by rheumatic fever it probably will suffer some of the damage with the first attack. Thereafter, any further attacks increase the damage.

So let's reword the situation this way: if there is some heart damage from the first attack, then the patient must be forever on guard after that against any repeated attack. If he escapes heart damage in the first attack, he can well consider himself fortunate, but nobody can say that some future attack will not damage the heart.

Finally, while relatively severe damage to the heart can be detected readily enough, how is anyone the doctor included able to be certain in milder cases that no damage has occurred?

Rheumatic fever is, indeed, a dreadful disease because, usually some years later, so many patients ultimately become "heart cripples". I would not want anything I say interpreted as meaning that we can ever relax our guard against it.

At the time of an attack, antibiotics are used to suppress the strep infection. Other medication may be used at the physician's discretion depending on how much pain and aching the patient may have. Rest is essential, because, while the heart tissues are inflamed, the heart must be relieved of all unnecessary strain.

After recovery, the present practice is to give long-lasting doses of penicillin once a month, to prevent a new infection from starting. Present thinking is that the penicillin should be continued for at least five years; some authorities think it may be advisable for longer than that.

And the patient must understand that he always must be on guard against a strep throat and seek treatment immediately if one begins.

Not every strep throat turns into rheumatic fever — but every person who has ever had rheumatic fever must always realize that a strep throat is a vastly greater danger to him than it is to other folks.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am 30 and six months ago had a kidney removed because of infection. Is it possible ever for me to have children? — Mrs. A.T.V.

The fact that you had a kidney removed has no relation to your ability to become pregnant or carry the baby to term.

Dear Dr. Molner: What is your opinion of cauterizing the cervix for mild erosion? Is it a common procedure? — Miss M.A.

It is both common and effective.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Sept. 28, 1968...

Gen. Charles Townshend's British Army occupied Ket-el-Amara, a walled city controlling the Tigris River south of Baghdad, 53 years ago today — in 1915 — and rested before attacking Baghdad. Two months later, the army was back in Kut, retreating from the Turkish troops. Townshend surrendered with 10,000 men but a second campaign succeeded within three months because of better preparation.

1955 — Hurricane Janet killed 500 in the Caribbean. 1958 — France approved the Fifth Republic under Gen. Charles de Gaulle.

First World War

Fifty years ago today — in 1918 — British and Canadian soldiers advanced to within two miles of Cambrai as Canadian troops took Railton, Courcelette and Sailly and French forces took Montigny and Reville. British warships and naval airplanes raided Zebrugge and vicinity. Bulgaria again asked for an armistice.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today — in 1943 — Allied bombers sunk seven Japanese ships: British troops within the Allied 5th Army advanced toward Naples capturing an entire German headquarters complete with a general and occupied Nocera.

Sept. 29, 1968...

First World War

Fifty years ago today — in 1918 — Canadian forces fought their way into the suburbs of Cambrai during an Allied advance between St. Quentin and Cambrai, outflanking the German positions; about 10,000 Turkish soldiers surrendered at Zaza station in Palestine; Bulgaria surrendered unconditionally.

Second World War

Twenty-five years ago today — in 1943 — the Anglo-American 5th Army advanced to within a few miles of Naples, after capturing Castellamare, a naval base 15 miles south of the city. London Gazette revealed Sgt. Havildar Ghale of the 5th Royal Gurkha Rifles was awarded the Victoria Cross for bravery and leadership against heavy Japanese forces in Burma.

He told the Ontario Public Health Association's annual meeting here Thursday that medicine's biggest failure is in not producing enough family physicians.

"We have somehow failed to throw up to the medical profession the challenge of the toughest job of all — personal or family practice," he said.

The nation's medical training centres should concentrate on instructing personal physicians "who like people, who can cope with their patients' emotional as well as physical problems and who can work effectively with specialists," Dr. Mott said.

Where, Oh Where, Is Family Doc?

TORONTO (CP) — In an age of specialists, Dr. F. D. Mott wonders where can a confused patient turn to find "in competent personal physician who will accept responsibility for his continuing care?"

Dr. Mott is professor of medical science at the University of Toronto's School of Hygiene.

LOOKING BACK WITH OLD STAGER

Fort Langley Rebuilt Again

By ART GRAY

From his first acquaintance with Fort Langley, Archibut McDonald was not happy with the limited farming possibilities of the location, but the harvest of salmon impressed the canny Scot. Enough fish could be taken in the few weeks of the annual run to feed all the Hudson Bay Company establishments west of the Rockies, he calculated.

If the fish could be cured and shipped there was a big future for Langley in this line. He wrote to the governor about the possibilities of a fish curing industry. Governor Simpson, however, was losing interest in Fort Langley, having concluded that it was not suitable for a main depot "in the event of our being under the necessity of withdrawing from Fort Vancouver, on the Columbia."

Another objection was that ships had to wait at the mouth of the Fraser for a wind and fair tide to make the trip up the river.

McDonald, however, continued his experiments in curing salmon and sent almost 200 barrels by boat to London, England. The barrels were faulty and they leaked, and the sample "did not win approval." There was no hard work in the vicinity so they had used white pine from a small tributary river upstream from Langley, still known today as Slave River.

Steam vessels were being used for ocean voyages and in 1833 the S. S. Beaver was sent around to the Columbia, making the trip, however, with old fashioned, but reliable, sails, and was equipped with the paddles at destination. The Beaver, first steamer on the Pacific coast, served Fort Langley and all other posts along the coast.

Both McDonald and Yale were anxious to engage in farming on a larger scale. Consent was given by Chief Trader James Douglas (a man who was to be closely associated with British Columbia's early history) for the selection of a new site, and the fort was moved to a new location in 1839, the move being completed by June 25, 1839. The new Fort Langley was a busy place, with dairying added to its activities, an experienced dairymen, Finlay, being in charge and his wife, an experienced butter maker, helping him.

BIG FIRSTS

Fort Langley thus can boast of being the site to two important firsts in Fraser Valley history, the first Salmon packing venture, and the first dairy, the backbone of the Valley's economy in years to come. Indians, impressed by the victory of the white traders over the Yocultas, moved to McMillan Island in considerable numbers, and built homes a short distance from the new fort. These white men, who could defeat the dreaded Yocultas in battle, yet do the work of squaws were puzzling, but worthy of imitation.

During the night of April 11, 1840, fire destroyed the second Fort Langley. It broke out in the blacksmith shop, and could not be extinguished, and all hands turned to salvaging all moveable effects. The powder supply was removed from the magazine, bundles of personal effects carried away, and even Mrs. Finlay's pans of cream. Jason Ovid Alway, a recent arrival, who had become interpreter and the "postmaster", is credited with saving the life of an infant from the burning fort. Incidentally, "postmaster" in this case has no connection with the mails, but was the name given to the person in charge of the workers in the post, and had charge of the keys, and supervision of the Indians. Alford married a sister of Shashie, great chief of the Cowichans.

No time was lost in rebuilding, and by February, 1841 a new and bigger fort, third Fort Langley, was in full operation, a more spacious affair, built on a ridge overlooking the farming lands. The size is given as 630 feet by 240 feet.

CANADA'S STORY

U.K. Sent Fresh Water For Great Lakes Fleet...

By BOB BOWMAN

When the War of 1812 began the Great Lakes, especially Ontario and Erie, became vitally important. Britain and the U.S.A. quickly built ships to patrol them. Britain sent two of Admiral Nelson's former officers, Sir James Yeo and Robert Barclay, to take charge, and Barclay, who had lost an arm at Trafalgar, was defeated by U.S. Captain Perry on Lake Erie. Perry was able to send his famous message "We have met the enemy and they are ours." His naval victory nearly won the war for the U.S.A.

Yeo had an entirely different experience. He built a fleet of powerful ships on Lake Ontario, one of which, the Saint Lawrence, had three decks, 192 guns, 700 officers and men. It may have been bigger than any ship Nelson ever commanded. The Admiralty's knowledge of the Great Lakes was so poor that the British sent fresh water for the British ships.

Yeo and his opposite number, U.S. Commodore Chauncey, spent most of their time courting around Lake Ontario avoiding each other. The sailors used to call their manoeuvres "the

In that same year Father Modeste Demers brought religion to the area. He was greeted at the fort by a hoisted flag and a salute from the seven guns. His description of his stay at Yale includes this comment: "A score of men are employed, as agricultural laborers, eight are Canadians, one an Iroquois and the others are Kanakas from the Sandwich Islands. I baptised 15 children, including those of Mr. Yale, and gave instruction to others, older, who did not even know the Lord's Prayer."

In 1844, Yale was made the chief trader, and in 1846 the boundary was established at the 49th parallel. The line, however, was not carried across Vancouver Island, as some had feared, but followed the channel to the open sea. As a result, Fort Victoria was established at the southern end of the island, and because of its location became the headquarters for the Hudson's Bay Company on the Pacific coast, and Fort Langley became a minor post.

GOLD RUSH

The discovery of gold in the Fraser River in 1856, however, brought a rush of people and of trade to old Langley. Neither Governor Douglas nor Yale welcomed the influx. Maintaining order became a problem, trade with the Indians was disrupted, laborers left the H.B.C. to mine for gold, making from $8 to $50 a day working the sand bars. Within a brief period there were some 30,000 or more adventurers in the area, where formerly there had been only 500 to 600 whites. Fort Langley, the end of the line for sea going ships, became a busy port. Fighting broke out in places between the Indians and the miners. In 1857 British Columbia (excluding Vancouver Island) was made a Crown Colony, with James Douglas, former H.B.C. official, as Governor. A force of Royal Engineers, under Col. Moody, was sent from Britain to serve double duty as Engineers to build roads, bridges, etc., and as soldiers to help preserve order. Fort Langley was chosen as the capital, and on Nov. 19, 1857, the proclamation of the new colony was read. It was a cold, miserable day, with a constant drizzle. The Hudson Bay Co. red ensign hung limp and sodden. The ceremony was performed in the big room in the officers quarters.

A proclamation ending the rule of the Hudson's Bay Company was also read. The occasion may have been a big one for Governor Douglas, but for little Yale it was not. The company for which he had worked so many years no longer held sway in the valley, and his was no longer his domain. He made a request for leave; it was granted, and he left for Eastern Canada. The town of Derby sprang up beside the fort, and lots sold like hot cakes. It was to be the new capital of the colony, but its life was short. Military and other reasons dictated the choice, and Queensborough, on the north bank, near the mouth of the Fraser, was chosen for two reasons, it was more easily accessible to ships, and less vulnerable to attack by the Americans from the south. The name of Queensborough was soon afterwards changed to New Westminster. Fort Langley is now an interesting historic site, partially restored and maintained as a tourist attraction, and well worth a visit by anyone interested in history. The name of the last commander of the old Fort Langley H.B.C. post is preserved in the town of Yale, some 15 miles north of Hope, on "Fraser's River."

IRONWORKERS SETTLE

VANCOUVER (CP) — A settlement formula was reached Friday in a six-week strike by 320 ironworkers at Dominion Bridge Co. Ltd. Terms will be presented to union members Sunday for ratification.

Burlington "races". However, in 1813, Chauncey made a mistake in navigation and some of his ships found themselves sailing with the British fleet near Niagara. They were easily captured, and Yeo claimed a great victory.

A few weeks later, on Sept. 28, the fleets came into contact again and fired at each other near Toronto Bay. Yeo lost a topmast, and retreated to Burlington Bay. Chauncey claimed a great victory. However, Yeo did play an important part in the attacks on Oswego, N.Y.

OTHER EVENTS ON SEPT. 28: 1857 — Railway opened between Galt and Guelph, Ont. 1869 — William McDougall appointed Lieutenant Governor of the Northwest Territories. 1932 — New Brunswick abolished its Legislative Council. 1942 — R.C.A.F. attacked Japan's "Fortress on Kiska Island." 1951 — Canada announced intention of building St. Lawrence Seaway without U.S. participation, if necessary. 1960 — "Skyway Bridge" opened between Prescott, Ont., and Ogdensburg, N.Y.

THE CHURCHES OF KELOWNA

One of Kelowna's newer churches, St. David's Presbyterian Church, was officially dedicated on the corner of Pandosy Street and Sutherland Avenue on April 4, 1957. The congregation was at that time under the direction of Lay Supply T. Stoddart-Cowan. The building's Christian Education wing was added in 1962. Serving an area stretching from Westbank to Rutland, St. David's has a congregation of about 200 families under the pastoral care of Rev. S. Reid Thompson, who has been with the church for four years. Many community activities, including Brownies, Guides and The Lively Arts, are centred on St. David's. It also serves as a church home for a small congregation of the Christian Reformed Church. (Courier photo)

No More Ads Says B.C. Weekly

VANCOUVER (CP) — The editor of British Columbia Catholic, a weekly church publication, that refused to publish a protest against Pope Paul's encyclical on birth control, criticized two women involved in the protest.

The protest, an advertisement in the form of a petition, appeared in Wednesday's editions of Vancouver's two daily newspapers. Rev. H. I. Bader, editor of B.C. Catholic, said in an article in the current edition of the church publication that the protest was "a disgraceful and unchristian act."

The women, whose names appear on the published petition together with those of Mrs. Michael MacLennan and Mrs. Bryan, also of North Vancouver, said earlier they had been refused permission to either print their views in the church publication or buy advertising space.

Round-The-World Battle Still Flares On Pill Ban

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy (AP) — Pope Paul has criticized the press occupiers of cathedrals, critics of his birth control ban, and social violence, in a stern demand for obedience to the Roman Catholic Church. "A spirit of corrosive criticism has become fashionable in some sections of Catholic life," he told pilgrims at his weekly general audience recently.

"For instance, there are magazines and newspapers which do not appear to have anything else to do but print unpleasant reports about events and people in the ecclesiastical world — not infrequently one-sided and perhaps changed and dramatized a bit to make them more interesting and spicy."

These reports spread unease among many Roman Catholics, including young people and some priests, he said.

Bishops Bog Down Trouble In Boston Pope Criticized

WINNIPEG (CP) — Canada's Roman Catholic bishops decided Thursday to establish permanent deacons, but bogged down trying to formulate a statement on the Pope's encyclical that includes an edict on birth control. The decision to establish, on a gradual basis, the diaconate in Canada, which has to be approved by the Pope, was made in a 60-to-7 vote at the Canadian Catholic Conference, the semi-annual meeting of bishops.

The bishops have called a news conference today where they may release a statement on the application of the Pope's encyclical, Humanae Vitae.

The statement for the guidance of priests and Canada's 8,500,000 Roman Catholics was to have been ready Thursday, but the bishops failed to reach the required two-thirds majority for agreement on a text.

Draft statements are being prepared by a special commission which has been meeting almost round-the-clock since the conference opened Monday. The bishops have warned that they have accepted the encyclical and that they will not produce a startling document.

Britain Agrees Church Weekly Angry

LONDON (Reuters) — English and Welsh Roman Catholic bishops have defended the Pope's ruling on birth control but took a tolerant line toward couples using artificial methods of contraception.

The bishops issued a joint statement on Pope Paul's encyclical following a meeting last week under the chairmanship of John Cardinal Heenan, leader of the 5,000,000 Roman Catholics in Britain.

It came amid a deepening rift among Roman Catholics here over the encyclical issued July 29. It appealed to Roman Catholic opponents of the ruling not to close their minds.

The statement said: "In view of the controversy which the encyclical has aroused, the bishops of England and Wales call upon all Catholics to conduct their discussions in a responsible and temperate manner and in a mutually charitable spirit."

The statement said many couples now using artificial birth control methods may be unable to see that at least in their personal circumstances the use of birth control is wrong.

"They should not close their mind but leave it open to the influence of the Holy Spirit, persevere in prayer and be ready to follow his guidance when it is given."

Encyclical Offends World Churches

ROME (AP) — A World Council of Churches official said Wednesday, Pope Paul's birth control encyclical ignored every major theme of the last Vatican ecumenical council and offended Protestants and others who were using contraceptives.

Rev. Dr. Albert van den Heuvel, director of the council's communications department, told a news conference that orthodox Christian church reaction to the document was highly favorable and that a small number of Protestants and Anglicans also sided with Pope Paul.

"But the majority of Protestants and Anglican church leaders and theologians were either puzzled, disappointed or very contrary," Dr. van den Heuvel said.

"The big words of the Vatican council were dialogue, collegiality, ecumenical openness, pastoral approach, openness to the rest of the world."

"Not any of these five major points played a role in the teaching of Humanae Vitae," the title of the Pope's encyclical, meaning "of human life."

Vernon Named For Convention

Johovah's Witnesses from around the Valley will convene in late October for their regular fall convention, a meeting of all ministers and student ministers in the Okanagan-Boundary region.

About 300 delegates of the church are expected to attend the three-day session which begins Oct. 25. Featured at the convention will be Laurie Saunier, B.C.'s regional supervisor of Witness activity. Mr. Saunier has travelled widely in the province since arriving here two years ago from Quebec. His main speech will be entitled "God is Love."

"We don't like to stand still," Frank Tadel, a spokesman for the Witnesses, said recently. "The Most of Witnesses in the Central Okanagan spent part of all of the summer vacations in Kamloops. A few attended assemblies in other locations across Canada."

The Jehovah's Witnesses recently completed a convention in Kamloops.

"The importance of these assemblies," the Windfield minister said, "is seen in the resulting religious enthusiasm which has become our hallmark."

He mentioned the Windfield congregation's volunteer labor in building a new Kingdom Hall there as an example of this enthusiasm.

Collectors Paradise CHILLIWACK, B.C. (CP) —

Hunting for rare glass is an increasingly popular hobby for visitors to the banks of the Fraser River says Nels Jensen, a bottle collector in this Fraser Valley community. Industrious diggers can turn up old whiskey, wine, beer, tonic and ointment bottles and the occasional opium bottle. His best find is a pint-sized whiskey flask valued at $50.

"No man is an island entire to himself."

Conference Aids Unity

VICTORIA (CP) — The Lambeth Conference this summer aired some of the ambivalence in the ecumenical movement between the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches, two church leaders have agreed here.

Anglican Archbishop Harold Sexton, 80, was the senior bishop and the oldest one at the conference.

Bishop Remi De Roo, at 44, was one of the youngest to attend and was one of only three Roman Catholic bishops in the world chosen to attend the Anglican Church's conference in London, held about once a decade.

At a joint press conference after returning here from the month-long conference, Archbishop Sexton said it had "had a wonderful effect toward unity."

He said he believes the Anglican Church is the key toward unity of all churches "because we can stretch out in two directions, towards the Protestants and the Catholics."

Bishop De Roo praised steps made toward unity at the conference, and cited discussions which were begun by the Archbishop of Canterbury and Pope Paul in 1968 and were continued by the Anglican-Roman Joint Preparatory Commission which met at Gazzada, Italy; Huntercombe, England, and Malta.

"This now has moved beyond their personal initiative," Bishop De Roo said, "and has received the approval of the Anglican communion at the conference."

He cited the growing number of unity schemes developing between Anglican and other Christian bodies and between English Methodists and the Church of England.

"They came up with reports which were made available to the conference," he said. "Even from a Roman Catholic point of view, the new ordinal (the ceremonial book for ordinations) which was proposed for Anglican and Methodist churches is completely acceptable to Roman Catholic theologians."

Anglican Women Plan First Gathering

VERNON — An all-day meeting Tuesday in All Saints' Anglican Church Parish Hall will be the first of its kind for the Anglican Church Women's Region for the North Okanagan.

During the morning session, the right Rev. E. W. Scott, bishop of Kootenay Diocese, will talk about the recent Lambeth Conference which he attended.

The days activities will conclude about 4 p.m. The conference is open to all Anglican women. Those attending are asked to bring their own lunch; tea and coffee will be provided.

The forming of "regions" was one of the most significant developments of the Anglican Church Women's annual conference last spring in Nanaimo, when the former system of archdeaconries was replaced by regions. The whole of the Diocese of Kootenay has been so divided, numbering seven regions. The North Okanagan Region comprises Woodside, Vernon, Armstrong-Endersby, Falkland-Westwold and Lumby. Mrs. Rayson Hague, Chant, formerly of Armstrong, is current chairman of the North Okanagan Region.

She will preside at Tuesday's meeting, commencing at 10 a.m.

Boston Pill Party For Rebel Priests

BOSTON (AP) — A group of 158 priests in the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Boston urged Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle of Washington Tuesday to withdraw penalties imposed on 13 priests opposed to the recent papal encyclical banning artificial contraception.

The Washington archdiocese dissidents maintain that Catholics may in conscience disagree with the ban. Cardinal O'Boyle on the other hand maintains that it must be strictly obeyed by all.

The Association of Boston Urban Priests said in a statement that the second Vatican council made clear that "authority cannot be blind to the conscientious objections of those it serves."

Cardinal O'Boyle suspended two priests from public ministry and imposed lesser penalties on 11 more.

Does Male Thinking Over Awe Females

VANCOUVER (CP) — How does a mostly-male organization get a woman's opinion? That might be the next question for Vancouver's "mega-thinkers" to ponder in their "think tank" atop a nearby Grouse Mountain.

And it is part of the reason Pamela Dunbar, 25, became a dropout after only four months with the organization known officially as the International Synetics Foundation. The word synetics is derived from a Greek expression for study of creative processes.

The group of about dozen men works at weekly meetings on projects for fee-paying clients, plus other problems ranging from poverty to marijuana.

Frank Ogden, creator of the foundation and resident therapist at a hospital in New Westminster, B.C., says the group is dedicated to the proposition that imagination can find a solution to almost any of the world's problems.

First United Church Is Scene Of Baldock-Hubbard Wedding

The First United Church was enhanced with vases of brightly colored mums, arranged by Mrs. Sue Ryder, when Sandra Fay Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Arthur Hubbard, exchanged marriage vows with David Eric Baldock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Baldock, of Penticton. Reverend Robert Scates officiated at the ceremony on Sept. 7, and H. Young presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a knee-length gown of white peau d' elegance with a lace overcoat. Her headdress was a rose of peau d' elegance holding a bouffant nylon veil, and she carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

Miss Nancy Spall, the bride's sole attendant, was charming in a short dress of powder blue peau d' elegance. She wore a silver ribbon wound through her hair and carried a bouquet of white poinsettias.

The best man was Larry McKenzie, and the ushers were Douglas McArthur and Terry Hubbard, brother of the bride.

At the reception held at the new home of the bride's parents, on Clifton Road, the mother of the bride received wearing a dress of navy blue crimpoline complimented with a Mr. and Mrs. Baldock will make their home on Gordon Road, R.R. 4, Kelowna.

ceremonies. The groom's mother, who assisted her in receiving the guests, chose a dress of powder blue crepe, a white hat and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The toast to the bride, proposed by her cousin, Earnie Hubbard, of Vancouver, was ably answered by the groom. The best man gave the toast to the maid of honor, and a three-layer wedding cake, made by the bride's mother and decorated by Lloyd Worth, centered the bride's table, which also held a vase of brightly colored roses.

Out of town guests attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Earnie Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hubbard, Miss Darlene Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Coy and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Oway, all of Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hubbard, of Chilliwack, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Foreman, of Chepaka, Mr. and Mrs. Don Coy, of Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Baldock, of White Rock, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ahl, and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Baldock, from Penticton, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Parker of Chilliwack.

To travel on her honeymoon to Spokane, the bride changed into a lime green suit accented with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Baldock will make their home on Gordon Road, R.R. 4, Kelowna.

ANN LANDERS

Many Need To Talk But Few Will Listen

Dear Ann Landers: Maybe it's because I have a kind face, but I am getting weary of listening to other people's problems. Here at the office they call me the Poor Man's Ann Landers. Not only is it time consuming, but it's beginning to get me.

Three people took me aside today and poured out their trouble. One story lasted almost an hour. I had heard it twice before and offered advice both times. (It was ignored).

Every time I go to a party I get stuck with the misty-eyed aunts and the insufferable bitches. I am fed up with tales of unrequited love, cheating husbands, spend like crazy waves, thankless children, domineering in-laws, and secret fears of impotency, sterility and insanity.

This morning during coffee break I had another one. When I finished listening she said, "Thank you dear. Now I know what I must do. I feel so much better." Well, maybe she felt better but I felt worse. What can I do?

—TATTERED EARS
Dear Ann: Paste up those tattered ears, honey, and stay with it. The world needs you. There are a great many people who want to talk, but not many who are willing to listen. You perform a useful service when you allow people to unburden themselves. Don't stop.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 19-year-old son was killed in Vietnam seven months ago. He was dating a very nice 16-year-old girl. They were not engaged or anything like that, just going steady. Our boy had given her his class ring and a jacket with his football letter on it.

The girls is now dating again and seems well over her sadness. Do I have the right to ask her to return our son's ring and jacket?
—STILL GRIEVING MOM
Dear Ann: I see no reason why you should not ask. The girl may be pleased to give them to you. It is on the other hand, she wishes to keep the mementos, you ought not to press the matter. Your son gave them to her and she is under no obligation, to return them.

PREPARING FOR PENTICTON

Coach Cliff Kilewer looks over his Immaculate Dons who were preparing earlier this week for Sunday's game against the Pentiction Golden Hawks.

The game is one of an exhibition series scheduled by the Dons, who are without a league to play in. In their first exhibition game, they defeated

Chase 57-0. A win over Pentiction, last year's Okanagan Mainline Football League Champions, would enhance the Dons' hopes of entering the league in a year to come. Game time is 2 p.m. at Elk's Stadium. (Courier photo)

Two Undeclared Records Risked On Soccer Field

Kelowna's first Senior Soccer team travels to Vernon this coming Sunday for a game against Vernon at 2 p.m. Both teams are undefeated so far this season and Sunday's game could be a pointer to the league championship.

Kelowna may be without Eric Tasker, left half, who has an injured knee. However, Harry Stienstra at left wing is almost fully fit and the team should be near full strength.

The lineup: E. Curran, O. Kempf, F. Patillo, M. Hrgovic, R. McAndrew, F. McCormick, F. Molzahn, E. Tasker, H. Schwab, G. Kamoschinski, T. Ambrosio, A. Roth, H. Stienstra.

The second senior Kelowna team is also on the move this Sunday. They meet Osoyoos in Osoyoos for a game at 12:30 p.m. Kelowna hopes to have John Vukic back on the left wing after a bout with influenza.

A bright hope for the local team at full back is John Smart who has played steadily in this defensive spot in the first three games this fall. The two full back positions may be switched this weekend, however, as Leo Polman appears to play a much stronger game as right back.

The lineup: M. Curran, L. Polman, J. Smart, J. Campos, D. Driussi, M. Whitaker, K. Sinclair, J. Lopez, J. Mezei, J. Vukic, R. Kropf, R. Lang, J. Neyer.

Juvenile soccer continues to grow in popularity in Kelowna with new registrations being handed in each day.

Thirteen Kelowna juvenile teams are now playing soccer in divisions 3 to 8 (7-14 years of age), in addition to 3 independent area teams in the same age group.

Registrations are reaching the point where further teams will have to be formed, says club secretary Bryan Robinson, so more Kelowna area boys can take part in this sport.

Additional teams will mean that more coaches will be needed. The club appeals to all interested adults for help in this undertaking. A previous knowledge of soccer is not required, since the club provides all coaches with first-class training material. All that is needed is the willingness to spend a few hours a week with a group of boys to help them participate in an organized sport.

The club needs volunteer referees, as well. Once again, while a knowledge of soccer is an asset, (since then the volunteer can start refereeing games at once) it is not a necessity. The club will provide referee training for any interested adult willing to help in this important phase of work.

All that is required is a telephone call to the club secretary, Bryan Robinson.

REMEMBER WHEN...

The shortest regulation nine-inning game in major league baseball history was played 47 years ago today—in 1921—between New York Giants and Philadelphia Phillies. All 34 men were out within 51 minutes. The reaction of the fans is not recorded.

Chase Chased Off Field In Kelowna Slaughter

Kelowna Cubs increased their league record to two wins and no losses Friday at the expense of an inept Chase team.

The Cubs took over the lead in the Okanagan Mainline Football League by trouncing Chase 49-0 at Elk's Stadium. Last weekend the Immaculate Dons, not a member of the OMFL this season, wiped out the same team 57-0.

Thus, in two games against Kelowna teams, Chase has managed nearly a point while allowing 106.

The lopsided decision kept alive a defensive streak for the Cubs who have not given up a point in league play this year. In the season-opener, they defeated Pentiction Golden Hawks 14-0.

In spite of the easy victory, head coach Larry Johnson was not happy with his team's performance.

"We are, and should, continue to improve with every game," Johnson said after Friday's contest, played before about 300 fans at Elk's Stadium.

"But we still need a lot of work. Our execution is poor and must be improved."

Johnson did find some satisfaction in the return of Dave Brown to the lineup. Brown, who missed the Pentiction game because of a broken bone in his hand, scored both times he carried the ball against Chase.

He went 25 and 85 yards for his major scores.

The Kelowna coaching staff went primarily with second unit ballplayers as it became increasingly apparent the Chase squad was not about to put up any kind of a contest.

The Kelowna offense rolled up a total of 486 yards, 468 of those along the ground. Quarterback Gerry Grey tried only six passes, completing two for 18 yards.

The Cubs had 15 first downs and were forced to punt only once in the contest. Jim Emslie, who has provided a bright spot all season with his running and kicking, booted his only punt 36 yards.

First year backs Fretwell, Jones, Welder and Whittle scored touchdowns for the Cubs. The defense, led by first-year players like Knutson, McIntosh and Dave Loyd, held the Chase attack to a mere nuisance, never allowing the opposition to get rolling.

Wiel was the leading ground-gainer with 119 yards. Brown rushed for 110 yards and Emslie 67.

Next home game for Kelowna is Friday when Kamloops comes visiting. A victory over Kamloops would all but clinch a first place finish for the Cubs.

With only a six-game schedule, a win would leave Kelowna as the only undefeated team in the league. A 3-0 record halfway through the year is a coach's dream and Johnson is making sure his club has a good shot at it by taking his team to Oroville, Wash. for an exhibition game today.

In Kelowna, the Immaculate Dons host the Pentiction Golden Hawks Sunday at 2 p.m. in Elk's Stadium. The game is also an exhibition.

Bring On Tigers; Gibson Is Ready

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bring on the Tigers. Bob Gibson is ready.

The St. Louis Cardinals ace, tuning up for the World Series against Detroit Tigers, hurled his 13th shutout of the season Friday night and shattered a 53-year-old record.

Gibson, best Houston Astros 1-0 and lowered his earned run average to 1.12, breaking the National League mark of 1.22 set by Philadelphia Phillies' Grover Cleveland Alexander in 1915.

It was the right-hander's 22nd victory of the season—a personal high.

Cincinnati's Pete Rose had one hit in seven at bats, as the Reds dropped a 15-inning game to San Francisco Giants 3-2, and his average dipped two points to .330. But he moved into the batting lead when Pittsburgh's Marty Alou went 0-for-4, as Pirates bowed to Chicago Cubs 4-1, and dropped three points to .329.

In other National League games, Los Angeles Dodgers topped Atlanta Braves 5-2 and Philadelphia edged New York Mets 3-2 in 11 innings.

Gibson scattered six hits against the Astros and struck out 11. He got the only run he needed in the fifth inning when Julian Javier opened with a walk against Larry Dierker, moved to second on Gibson's sacrifice and scored on Curt Flood's single.

Willie Mays broke up the Giants game with a leadoff homer in the 15th inning against Cincinnati's Ted Abernathy. It was Mays' 23rd of the year and career No. 587.

TIED FOR THIRD
The loss shoved the Reds into a third place tie with the Cubs. Lee Maye homered for Cincinnati.

At Spangler's eighth pinch hit of the season—a two-run double in the seventh inning—helped the Cubs get past Pittsburgh.

An error by Jose Pagan playing third base in place of the absent Maury Wills, started the Cubs' seventh-inning rally after Donn Clendenon's 17th homer of the year had snapped a scoreless tie in the top half.

The setback left the Pirates tied for fifth place with Atlanta, two games back of the Cubs and Reds with two games remaining for all four teams.

Tom Haller drove in three runs with a double and triple, leading the Dodgers past the Braves. Haller's triple in the ninth inning broke a 2-2 tie, scoring Jim Fairley and Willie Davis, who had singled.

Jim Brewer, who pitched his way out of a bases-loaded, non-out jam in the eighth by getting Felix Millan to hit into a double play and striking out Deron Johnson, was the winner in relief.

The Phillies edged the Mets in the 11th inning when Gary Sutherland opened a bloop double and scored on Cookie Rojas' pop fly single.

Volkswagen doesn't do it again.

It isn't any longer. It isn't any lower. It isn't any wider. It isn't any flashier, or classier. But it's changed. And this year, like every year, it's the only new car that wasn't changed just to make it look different. Only to make it work better.

Volkswagen does it again.

Check the Yellow Pages under Automobiles for the name of the Volkswagen dealer nearest you.

Rattle And Clanking Not Really Needed

QUESTION: Recently, the landlord had tanks put in the cellar of this three-story house, and the new hot water pipes rattle and clank a lot. How can the pipes be quieted?

ANSWER: Sounds as though the pipes could use quite a few more supports for their horizontal lengths. It could be that the present supports are a bit loose and would benefit from tightening.

MAHOGANY BLOCK

QUESTION: I have a new unfinished chopping block made of laminated mahogany. On the sides, bottom and legs, I propose a good stain. What shall I put on the top as a pre-seasoning, to protect against grease blood and other stains?

ANSWER: Put on a soaking coat of vegetable or boiled linseed oil. Leave for a couple of hours to let the wood absorb all it can. Then, using plenty of pressure, wipe off all excess. Let it dry for a week, then repeat the whole process. When the block get worn down some, it wouldn't hurt a bit to do this again.

GROUT IN TILE-FORMICA

QUESTION: Grout just won't stay in the crack where the Formica counter top meets the splashboard behind the sink. Do you know what will stick in there? I am worried about water working down under-

ANSWER: Fill with the epoxy adhesive which comes in two tubes and mixed together; the white, rather than clear. This will stick anything to anything, it seems. Be sure the open joint is dry before mending.

TOO MUCH CONTRAST

QUESTION: When an addition was put on my house, the builder could not find shingles which would match the shingles on the older part of the roof. Is there any paint which will hide this contrast?

ANSWER: I frankly doubt it, unless you're willing to go for a few coats of a dark paint, which will be more uncomfortable in hot weather due to heat absorption. However, you can take samples of each shingle to the paint dealer and see if he can come up with something which will at least tone down the color difference.

OLD CUPBOARD

QUESTION: I acquired a cupboard about 100 years old. I think it needs stripping, stain-

TILE-ON-TILE

QUESTION: Can a rubber tile floor be covered with another tile flooring, or must all the old tiles be removed? There are only six tiles that show signs of wear or lifting, but the people occupying the house want a whole new floor. Please advise.

ANSWER: If any old tiles are shaky, the tile-on-tile is risky. Should any tiles underneath let go, then it's disaster for those on top. But if old tiles are firm, flat and clean, there's no reason you shouldn't risk putting a new layer on top. At least thousands have done this successfully.

GURGLING WATER

QUESTION: Recently, a loud gurgling has developed in my kitchen sink when the upstairs tenants are running hot water. Why is this and what can be done?

ANSWER: It's very possible that the vent stack is at least partially clogged. Are there any birds building a nest in the roof outlet of the vent stack, or is there any debris caught in there? It's worth a look and a cleanout.

REPAIR BEFORE PAINTING

QUESTION: Our 12-inch diameter porch columns have a few vertical cracks. Before I paint, I would like to fill these cracks. What's good?

ANSWER: Swedish putty will work fine. This is Spackle mixed with paint or varnish to a stiff but workable paste consistency. If you don't get it absolutely smooth when working it into the cracks, sand it down when dry. When it's painted, you'll never know it hides a crack.

WHAT HUMIDIFIER

QUESTION: We are considering getting a humidifier. Our friends are all getting the portable living room type. Isn't the kind you hook directly to the furnace better?

ANSWER: The portable type really only takes care of the room where it's used. The furnace-hooked type takes care of the whole house. Which do you need?

WON'T CHANGE COLOR

QUESTION: My woodwork is stained birch color, with one coat of lacquer. It now looks somewhat worn. If I brushed another coat of clear lacquer over this, would it make the color much darker?

ANSWER: Not appreciably. Go ahead.

DESIGN No. CS-2204. The traditional split level plan has a lot of boosters. It's fine for a smaller lot and for a sloping lot, and this plan offers a good deal on both living levels as well as on the entry level. Three bedrooms are a half-flight up from spacious living-dining-kitchen level. Two-way bathroom is featured for the bedrooms, and an entry-level lavatory is an asset to utility room and den, and recreation room down from the foyer entry. Living levels have 1,200 sq. ft. of area. Plan CS-2204 is available from Progressive House Plans, 48 West 48th Street, New York, N.Y. 10036.

UN Asked For Inquiry On 'Israeli Atrocities'

UNITED NATIONS (CP) — A prompt investigation into the treatment of Arab civilians in territories seized by Israel during the June, 1967, Middle East war was called for by the Security Council Friday.

The vote in the 15-member council was 12 to 0 with the United States, Canada and Denmark abstaining.

During the four-hour debate on a resolution offered by Pakistan and Senegal, Arab delegates accused Israel of torturing Arab civilians, expropriating property and forcing many to flee into neighboring Arab states.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah denied the charges of cruel treatment of Arabs. On his part, he demanded an investigation of the treatment of Jews living in Arab lands.

Secretary-General U Thant said after the vote that his emissary could be dispatched to begin his investigation of the conditions of the Arab civilians as soon as assurances were received that he would receive the co-operation needed for achieving his mission.

Israel, said Tekoah during the debate, had no objection to a UN investigation into the treatment of Arab civilians. But he demanded a reciprocal look at the plight of Jews in Arab lands.

UNDERTOOK MISSION The debate centred on interpretation of a council resolution adopted June 14, 1967, under which Nils Gussing undertook a humanitarian mission in the Middle East for the UN.

Israel said the terms of reference of Gussing's mission covered "all parties to the conflict" and not just Israel. The Arab states disputed this contention.

Takoah charged that many Jews in Arab lands had been thrown into prisons and concentration camps.

Canadian Ambassador George Ignatieff, council president for September, presided over the debate.

The three countries abstaining on the vote did not speak prior to the vote. But sneaking afterwards, William Buffum of the United States said his country could not vote for a resolution which appeared to dissociate the council from the fate of the Jewish minorities in Arab countries.

In the debate, Egypt charged Israel with carrying out policies designed to alter entirely the ethnic character of Arab territories it conquered during the war.

Ambassador Mohamed Awad el Kony told the council Israel's cruel treatment of civilians in the occupied territories infuriated the whole Arab world.

AROUND B.C. Disaster Viewed

VANCOUVER (CP) — The man who drafted Vancouver's air disaster plan said Friday traffic conditions would be an "unanswerable" problem if a major mishap occurs at the new international airport.

Inspector F. C. Errington said a solution probably lies in better use of helicopters.

CASE PUT OVER

VANCOUVER (CP) — A criminal libel charge against the hippie newspaper, Georgia Strait, editor Dan McLeod and writer Robert Cummings, was put over for a week Friday after magistrate James Barman said he wanted more time to consider evidence.

VOTE SOUGHT

VANCOUVER (CP) — No date has yet been set for a government-supervised strike vote at McCarter's Shingle Co. Ltd. and Smith Cedar Products Ltd. Workers seek a 50-cent hourly increase on a base rate of $2.76.

MAN CHARGED

VANCOUVER (CP) — A 77-year-old man died Friday night after he was struck by a car. Police withheld his name. Roy D. Butts, 47, of suburban Burnaby, later was charged with criminal negligence.

Soviet Invasion May Deter Reduction Of NATO Forces

LONDON (CP) — British defence authorities anticipate the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia will deter Canada, Belgium and other countries from reducing their NATO troop commitments in Europe.

At the same time, Defence Secretary Denis Healey is reported to have launched a campaign of his own to make the European members of NATO more "self-reliant."

Behind this move may be a British view that closer defence relations may hasten Britain's entry in the European Common Market.

Healey has been waging a vigorous diplomatic campaign to halt the withdrawal of troops from Europe, particularly from West Germany, in view of the new Soviet threat on the Czech-German border.

Informed sources in Ottawa report Canada may begin withdrawing troops from Europe in 12 to 18 months unless there is some new incident like the Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia.

CONSIDERING TIME The sources say that in its current foreign policy review, Prime Minister Trudeau's government is trying to decide when — not whether — to withdraw. The government for years has been saying that Canada could not maintain troops in Europe forever.

Canadian foreign policy advisers are divided on the withdrawal question, the informants say, and the upshot likely will be a decision to keep troops in Europe for another year.

Canada has a 5,000-man mechanized infantry brigade and six squadrons of nuclear jet bombers in West Germany.

Britain argues that its own NATO commitments have been increased by the withdrawal of her forces in the Far East.

Diabetic Association Hears Report On Camp Activities

A report was given on summer camp activities at the regular meeting of the North Okanagan Diabetic Association meeting Monday in Vernon.

The camp in Oyama in August attracted about 80 diabetic children from B.C. including two from Vernon and eight from Kelowna.

The district association pays most of the cost of sending a child to camp, but part of the expense is borne by the parents.

In the past, Vancouver has shared a large portion of the cost. While attending the camp the diabetics are taught to accept their condition and live with it and how to lead a near normal life.

The camp is well supervised by doctors, nurses, dietitians, technicians, and counsellors. With regulated diets, insulin, and exercise, the children act like any other group.

Herbert Le Roy, Penticton president of the non-profit organization, spoke on the Canadian Diabetic Association, outlining the responsibilities of various branches.

A membership drive will be held from October to December. Kelowna and district is associated with the Vernon Diabetic Association and members encounter some difficulty in attending meetings.

A suggestion has been made to form an association in Kelowna, the only Valley centre without an association. Penticton and Vernon have indicated they would assist in forming a local branch here. Anyone interested in forming a Kelowna association may phone 762-4184. They do not have to be a diabetic to join.

DUNCAN, B.C. (CP) — Fifty men of the Shawinigan division of MacMillan Bloedel Ltd. refused to go back to work Friday, claiming the company has been violating the master agreement.

All are members of local 1-80 International Woodworkers of America, and they told union officials they would report back to work Monday if executive members and the company will try to find a solution to their complaint.

Business agent Jack Mumm said the company has been failing to notify the union of new equipment being introduced into the woods.

Joey In Centre Of Stage Once More At Bull-Session

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP) — Newfoundland's biggest political bull-session since the national assembly debates leading to Newfoundland's entry into Confederation in 1949 opens here today and, once again, Joseph Robert Smallwood will be at centre stage.

But for Mr. Smallwood, there is a big difference between then and now. In 1948, as Confederation won the day, his political fortunes were about to skyrocket toward a 20-year reign as Liberal premier.

Now, "I think I've earned the right to retire," he said this week after a year of setback for his government, the Liberal party and his personal leadership policies.

"But before I go, I want to leave a strong, powerful Liberal party . . . safely in the hands of the common people of Newfoundland."

Mr. Smallwood, who will be 68 Christmas Eve, proposes a grassroots renaissance of the party over the next 12 months.

DRIVE FOR MEMBERS
Today's meeting will start a membership drive, followed by similar gatherings Oct. 12, 19 and 26 at Clarendville, Grand Bank and, probably, Corner Brook.

The aim is to enrol all delegates-organizers except 1,200 to 1,500 here—in a new Liberal party association. They would pay $1 annual dues and carry membership cards for the first time in a province where, until recently, being a Liberal meant simply being a Smallwood supporter.

During the next year, a handful of full-time organizers will try to double the number expected to be enrolled this fall, estimated at 5,000 to 6,000. Then, these card-carriers would meet in each of the 41 legislative districts next fall to choose delegates for a leadership convention.

That is the way the picture should shape up.

But there are some question marks—mainly resulting from the string of woes which have befallen the party in 1966.

The biggest concerns today's intentions of John Crosbie, former health minister who split with the premier May 14.

SIGNED DECLARATION
Mr. Crosbie agreed this week to sign a declaration supporting the party and the government—something Mr. Smallwood says all must do to get a card—if that does not muzzle his freedom of expression.

He continues his objections to the economic measures which precipitated the cabinet split this spring when Mr. Crosbie and Clyde Wells, 30, minister-without-portfolio, became independent Liberals.

Mr. Crosbie seems certain to raise at the convention the issue of the premier's refusal to admit Mr. Wells to the meeting. Mr. Smallwood said Mr. Wells refused to pledge support for the government.

The cabinet split left house standings: Liberal 36, Conservative four and independent Liberal, two.

In the federal general election June 25, six of seven incumbent Liberals went down to defeat by Conservatives, the biggest blow they ever suffered in this province.

Most people said it was an anti-Smallwood vote, because

KILLED FOR KINDNESS
KINSHASA, The Congo (AP) — A 30-year-old mechanic told the daily newspaper Le Progrès he killed his aunt and uncle to save the family from sorcery. "If I physically eliminated them, it was because I had to," he said. "It was at the price of my blood to save my family from these sorcerers who were at the root of the numerous misfortunes my family has known."

the government had brought a tough budget in March, including a $20,000,000 tax increase.

The open quarrelling among cabinet ministers also was listed as an adverse factor.

Immediately after the June election, Mr. Smallwood announced his plan to retire after rebuilding the party.

MAY SEEK JOB

Mr. Crosbie, a 37-year-old lawyer, former deputy mayor of St. John's and member of the legislature for St. John's West since 1966, makes no bones about his desire to try for the leadership if a convention is held by late spring or early summer next year.

Old Parliamentary Tradition Goes By The Speakers' Board

OTTAWA (CP) — Retention of Lucien Lamoureux as Commons Speaker for the 28th Parliament has played a part in breaking an old political custom.

Normally, when there is an English-speaking Commons Speaker, there is a Speaker of French descent presiding over the Senate. And vice-versa.

But for the new Parliament, which began Sept. 12, the Speakers in both parliamentary houses are of French descent.

Jean-Paul Deschatelets succeeded Sydney Smith, of British descent, in the new Parliament elected June 25.

BYPASS CUSTOM

The custom of naming Speakers of opposing linguistic backgrounds for the Commons and Senate was bypassed when Mr. Lamoureux succeeded himself as Commons Speaker.

He had been the Commons Speaker of the previous Parliament. And it is customary for the Commons Speaker to step down after a single term lasting the life of a Parliament.

It is also normal practice for Commons Speakers to alternate between French and English in consecutive Parliaments.

So, normally, Mr. Lamoureux would have stepped down in favor of an English-speaking successor.

However, Mr. Lamoureux decided with the government's approval to seek re-election as an independent rather than as a Liberal amid talk he might eventually become the Commons' first permanent Speaker. He won as an independent and got the job again.

At the same time, Prime Minister Trudeau followed the less-hallowed tradition of alternating French and English Speakers in the Senate. Hence, Senator Deschatelets' appointment.

FOLLOWS TRADITION

The custom of having Commons and Senate presiding officers from opposite language groups was only intermittently followed in the early years following Canada's birth as a nation in 1867.

But the custom eventually became firmly entrenched. Until this year, it had been broken only once before in the 20th century.

That occurred in 1916 when both Speakers were of French descent, Albert Sevigny in the Commons and C. P. Landry in the Senate.

PILL AND COO
LIVERPOOL, England (CP) — City authorities have been barred from using a birth pill on pigeons. Health authorities say the contraceptive—a by-product of the human variety—has proved effective in cutting down the city's colony of pigeons which do about $13,000 damage a year. But agriculture ministry officials want to ensure there are no harmful side effects to the birds.

FLIERS IN FLAP
LONDON (CP) — The RAF has launched an attack against an enemy that costs it $2,600,000 a year—birds that fly into aircraft taking off and landing. Amplifiers will play tapes of birds in distress to scare others away at 55 bases in Britain and West Germany.

SMALL CHANGE
MUNSLW, England (CP) — Shropshire farmer Gary Beazley got an additional payment on his government subsidy in the mail—a cheque for fourpence. "The cheque itself costs twopence and there's fourpence postage on top of that," he said. "It's the civil service gone mad."

STAFF CUT
WORTHING, England (CP) — Worthing hospitals with staff shortages found they had too few hands available for shaving off the incessantly-sprouting beards and moustaches of male patients.

COLLECTS GREEN STUFF
REIGATE, England (CP) — Municipal authorities found they had a valuable crop of elodea crista under their noses in nearby lakes. Persons came from miles around to collect the weed to oxygenate fish tanks. Now the council has sold exclusive rights to a company for a fat fee.

After 12 successive days of play in the qualifying rounds of the World Bridge Olympiad staged in Deauville, France, last June, each country having played a 20-deal match against each of the other 32 countries, the top four teams proved to be Italy, United States, Holland and Canada, in that order.

The next step was an 80-board semifinal match between Italy and Canada (won by the Italians 171 international match points to 120), and a similar match between the U.S. and Holland (won by the Americans 174 imps to 142).

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW
Stars promise that Sunday will be a pleasant day, especially where personal relationships are concerned. You will have to be a bit careful in budgetary matters, however.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that while, recently, you may have experienced something of a "slow-down" in business and financial matters, both are now on the verge of an upturn. Financial plans conceived now, launched by December 1st and carried out progressively, should show fine results by the end of next March. Do be conservative along these lines: October and November, however, or your best plans could go awry. Other beneficial monetary periods: Late June and the entire months of July and August, 1989.

Good chances for occupational advancement and increased prestige run almost parallel to the profitable financial cycles, but with outstanding chances of unusual accomplishment indicated in November, January and June. For creative workers, the period between now and January 31st (also June) should bring gratifying recognition for original and imaginative work. Except for a possible brief period of stress in mid-July, your domestic life should be unusually serene, and sentimental interests will be under exceptionally propitious influences in November, January, May, late June and late July. Most auspicious periods for travel: Between now and mid-January, next July and August.

A child born on this day will be extremely talented, musical; could excel in either vocal or instrumental areas.

THE DAY AFTER TOMORROW
Monday's early hours will call for considerable caution in handling finances, correspondence, all written matters. Stars, auspicious in the afternoon and early evenings, are especially favorable to romance, home interests and artistic pursuits.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY
If Monday is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that a display of initiative and enterprise now could yield excellent results, where your financial interests are concerned, by the end of next March. Present activity along this line, however, should be limited to planning procedures, with the first week of December indicated as an excellent time to launch your program. Next good cycles along these lines: Late June and throughout July and August of next year. Do be conservative in intervening periods, however, or you could offset gains.

In job affairs, you may be obliged to take on some new responsibilities in early January, early February and/or the first two weeks in April, but, properly handled, they could bring fine advancement, increase prestige and chances to further raise your status, occupationally, next June and/or August. If you are in business for yourself, transactions in mid-January and mid-May should prove exceptionally profitable.

Best periods for romance: November, January, May, late June and late July; for travel: The weeks between now and mid-January; also next July and August.

A child born on this day will be endowed with a charming personality, a fine intellect and great versatility in the arts.

U.S. Bombers Hit Hard At Guerrillas On Border

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B-52 bombers today pounded an area along the Cambodian frontier where guerrillas have tried three times in three days to overrun border watching posts.

In the northern war zone, the Viet Cong shelled a U.S. camp at Thung Duc, 35 miles southwest of Da Nang, and attempted to overrun two small militia posts nearby. Two South Vietnamese defenders were reported killed and 11 wounded.

The B-52s struck eight times Friday night and today along a line that parallels the Cambodian frontier about 70 miles northwest of Saigon. One raid northwest of Tay Ninh City was within a few thousand yards of the frontier.

A most 400,000 pounds of bombs were rained on suspected mustering areas within a few miles of the mud fort outpost of Thien Ngon where the Viet Cong lost 130 dead in an almost suicidal attack Friday.

REPORTS 411 KILLED

U.S. spokesmen claim the Thien Ngon assault and attacks on Phuoc Tan and Ka Tum cost the Viet Cong a total of 411 killed.

American troops searching the jungled frontier area found another hidden guerrilla weapons dump containing some 400 mortar shells and other war material.

Meanwhile, South Vietnam's education ministry announced it will draft all eligible senior high school and university professors for nine weeks of training beginning Oct. 14 before returning them to serve in local militia groups.

The draft, part of the new general mobilization, is expected to delay opening of some high schools and universities until mid-December when the teachers return.

Of 850 professors in the nation's five universities some 500 are eligible. An estimated 6,300 senior high school teachers, half of the total, are eligible.

Firemen Ready For A Strike Unless New York Pays More

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York City firemen have voted to walk off their jobs Tuesday unless the city comes up with a new contract that meets their approval.

Michael J. Maye, head of the Uniformed Firefighters Association, announced Friday night that members of his union had voted overwhelmingly for a "total strike" unless an agreement is reached in current negotiations with the city.

Maye did not say how many of the city's 10,500 firefighters had voted in favor of a strike.

Maye's announcement meant that New York may have to face simultaneous strikes or slowdowns next week by firemen, policemen and garbage collectors.

The city's public school teachers have been on strike for 11 days with no early settlement expected.

The uniformed sanitation men's Association has approved a strike beginning Tuesday, and the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association has threatened to take an unspecified "job action" unless an acceptable contract offer is made.

The city has been negotiating jointly with all three unions since last spring. The unions are demanding higher salaries and better working conditions. Talks are scheduled to resume today.

Hopes for a Monday end to the 11-day school strike were dashed today as Albert Shanker, president of the United Federation of Teachers, announced "a complete breakdown in negotiations."

The head of the 55,000-member union emerged shortly after midnight from a meeting with Mayor John V. Lindsay and declared: "There has been no progress and there is not even a schedule for resumption of talks."

Only 24 hours earlier both Shanker and Lindsay had expressed optimism that the racially-tense walkout might be ended with teachers resuming classes Monday for 1,100,000 public school pupils.

Shanker blamed the breakdown on Schools Superintendent Bernard E. Donovan and the Board of Education, charging they would not provide for neutral observers or the proper use of 110 disputed teachers in a Brooklyn slum school district.

"It looks like a very long strike," he added.

New Political Equation Sought As Manning Quits

EDMONTON (CP) — Albertans are looking at a new political equation in the wake of Ernest Manning's announcement Friday that he plans to step down after 25 years as provincial premier.

Mr. Manning's retirement will take effect when the Social Credit party can elect a new leader, likely early in December.

A good 50 per cent of Albertans have known no government leader other than the Social Credit patriarch who celebrated his 60th birthday a week ago.

The new shape of provincial politics is uncertain. The question is: Can Social Credit continue its 33-year reign in government without Mr. Manning?

The premier said he believes Social Credit will remain strong and choose a new leader from among a number of capable men. He called the opposition "weak and immature," and said the present appears to be the best time for him to relinquish his post.

Mr. Manning said he will not endorse any particular leadership candidate.

The leadership convention, likely to be held in Edmonton, will be the first for the party in Alberta. Mr. Manning was chosen by the party caucus to succeed William Aberhart, the province's first Social Credit premier, after Mr. Aberhart died in 1943.

WILL RETAIN SEAT?

Premier Manning said he has not decided whether to also resign his legislature seat.

He said he was retiring to give the government new leadership and to apply his talents to "other and broader fields of knowledge and experience."

His statements Friday and on earlier occasions indicate these "broader fields" will revolve around his long-standing concern about the state of Canada's national political system.

This concern was elaborated by Mr. Manning in 1967 in a book—Political Realignment: A Challenge to Thoughtful Canadians. In the book, the premier called upon conservatives in Canada to unite in a single national political party devoted to a free enterprise economy, protection of the privacy of the individual in society, and humanitarian social concern.

Such a political party could, Mr. Manning believes, arrest the trend to "welfarism" and "big government" in Canada.

The premier believes that national party politics are in a state of "disintegration" in Canada, and "welfarism" is growing by default because the influence of conservatives is fragmented among several political parties.

Mr. Manning has been particularly outspoken of late on two national issues—the national medical insurance plan and the question of constitutional reform in Canada. Both remain unresolved as he steps down from the premiership.

LIKELY TO JOIN

Despite the premier's opposition to the national medical scheme, Alberta likely will join it shortly.

And, Mr. Manning said Friday, he sees "no possibility of resolving the constitutional difficulty for several years."

Aside from his political concerns, Mr. Manning ever since his youth has been deeply involved in fundamentalist, Baptist religious evangelism. He and his wife Muriel conduct a 30-minute Sunday evangelistic broadcast each week which is carried on a network of North American radio stations. The broadcast was taken over by Mr. Manning upon the death of William Aberhart, its founder.

He also owns a dairy farm southwest of Edmonton.

Standing in the 65-seat Alberta legislature now is Social Credit 56, Conservative 6, Liberal 2 and Independent 1.

As premier, Mr. Manning has presided over a generation of progress in Alberta from post-depression rags to oil-boom riches. Alberta now has virtually no public debt, and is the only province in Canada that has not imposed a sales tax.

One of the premier's most recent moves was the appointment of Canada's first ombudsman.

In addition to the premiership, Mr. Manning at various times has held the trades and industry, provincial treasury, attorney-general and mines portfolios.

BUSY ROUTE

Indian Treaties 'Must Be Kept'

TORONTO (CP) — A British Columbia law professor said Friday Canadians should stand by their treaties with Indians even though they may seem outdated.

Dr. Kenneth Lysyk of the University of British Columbia told the annual conference of the Indian-Eskimo Association of Canada that hunting and fishing treaties should be considered inviolable.

"To say that the agreements of hunting rights no longer need to be held to because Indians no longer depend on them for their livelihood seems to me to show not only a breach of faith, but an astonishing degree of high-handed paternalism."
